

CLEANING & STUDENT LIFE

The custodial staff at a higher education facility is a critical part of keeping students, staff, and faculty healthy and happy.

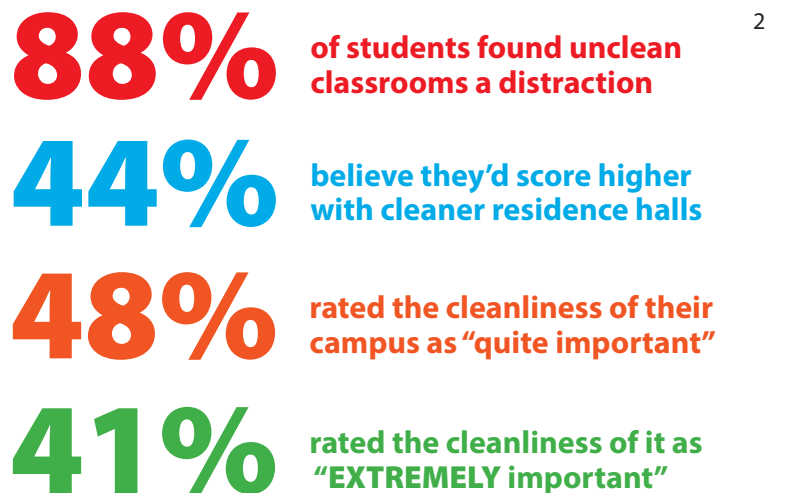

▲ A regular cleaning regimen with product that doesn't leave behind harsh smells or residue helps keep the air quality higher by reducing dust, pollutants, and asthma-triggers.

▲ When students are provided an environment free from irritants and other pollutants that could affect their health, they're free to focus on their schoolwork.

▼ The cleaning staff are the first line of defense against disease! They help protect not only students, but also the faculty. This ensures a high quality education which also affects graduation and placement rates.
